

Customer Product Design and Off-Site Manufacturing (OSM)

We consider the diversity of our customers and their requirements as a challenge and opportunity at the same time. For us, this is where the key to individual benefit lies. Having your individual needs and your application in focus, our customizing teams develop the very solution that fits you best. Custom-made parts to complete systems or special solutions produced in small series, are as much part of our portfolio as individual consulting and off-site prefabrication.
